

Across

2. When information presented represents one viewpoint.

4. Information that is about the required topic and is useful is said to be _____.

6. If information is both accurate AND reliable then we say that it is _____.

7. A statement based on what somebody believes but without actual proof of its truth

8. A measurement of how correct the information being presented is.

Down

1. A statement that is true and can be supported by evidence that proves it.

3. A measurement of how believable something is.

4.

5. measurement of how much you can trust the information being presented.

Play an interactive version of this game online at:

www.what2learn.com/games/play/69061 or sign up at what2learn for a free account to access this and thousands more games.

